Terms of
EDGEWOOD COLLEGE
On-Campus Housing and Food Service Contract

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

While every attempt is made to accommodate students' preferences for room assignments, preferences are not guaranteed. In general, Edgewood attempts to place exchange students in multiple occupancy spaces (doubles or triples), though students may indicate a preference for a single. Brazil Scientific Mobility Program requires students to be placed in shared, double occupancy living arrangements. Study USA requests shared occupancy spaces for its participants. The College reserves the right to assign or change an assignment to a location different from the student's original assignment. Students with special housing needs should notify the Office of Residence Life as soon as possible after admission to the College. No smoking is allowed in the residence halls.

2. CONTRACT PERIOD

The length of the housing commitment must be for the full academic year or semester, whichever matches your exchange placement at Edgewood. The contract period begins when residence halls open the week before classes begin and ends after the resident's last Semester I or II final exam, whichever coincides with the student's exchange placement. Residents are expected to vacate their rooms within 24 hours of their last final exam for both Semester I and Semester II. Residence halls are closed at 6:00pm on the last day of class before breaks for Thanksgiving, Winter, and Spring Break. Residents are expected to vacate their rooms during those periods. Exceptions are made only for students with academic commitments and students whose residence is more than 1,000 miles from the College (this includes exchange students). The College assumes no liability for residents who are permitted to remain when the residence halls are closed. Personal possessions may be left in rooms between Semester I and II at the resident's risk. All possessions must be removed when residents vacate at the end of Semester II.

3. PERSONAL POSSESSIONS AND DAMAGE BILLING

The college is not liable for residents' personal property whether it is lost, stolen or damaged. Please check with your insurance agent for information on insuring your personal items (this is often included in a homeowner's policy.) Residents will be billed for any individual or hall damages along with any cleaning, key, or improper check-out charges. Residents who do not remove personal possessions after the student leaves Edgewood housing may receive a letter of notification to their permanent home address listed by the resident. The resident has 30 days to retrieve their belongings or the belongings will be considered abandoned and become College property. The College will then have the right to dispose of the items. Residents will be assessed a charge for labor and packing materials along with a disposal fee if necessary.

4. RULES AND REGULATIONS

A resident's signature on the Application and Contract for On-Campus Housing and Food Service signifies acceptance of conditions stipulated by the College in this contract, the Student Handbook, Residence Life Handbook, and all Edgewood College publications pertaining to the governance of Edgewood College residence halls.

5. TELEPHONE

Each room will be provided with a telephone. Each telephone has voice mail, which is also shared by the room residents. Residents may use their own personal calling cards to make long distance calls.

6. COMPUTERS

All rooms are wired for hard wire and wireless access to the campus Local Area Network (LAN). It is very important that you have a 10/100 base-T NE200 card and current anti-virus software on your computer. Both will be required for the Computer Information Services to maintain your residence hall internet connection. For more information, please contact the Technology Assistance Center at (608) 663-6900 or visit <http://edgetech.edgewood.edu/> Please keep in mind that Edgewood does have computer labs available to all students, so having an individual computer in an individual room is not a necessity.

7. MEAL PLAN

All resident students living in a traditional residence hall are placed on the meal plan outlined below based on the exchange program requirements:

- Business College Beijing Union University, Karlsruhe University of Applied Sciences HsKA
Student's receive 1400 meal dollars on their ID card each semester to be used to purchase items ala carte at Phil's and the Wingra Café. Students who need additional meal dollars may purchase supplemental meal plans in the Office of Residence Life at any point during the semester. Cost for the supplemental plan is billed to the student's account. Any unused meal dollars are forfeited at the end of each semester. A dietician is available for consultation.
- ISEP, Masaryk, Study USA/British Council Program, Brazil Scientific Mobility Program
Student's receive 1800 meal dollars on their ID card each semester to be used to purchase items ala carte at Phil's and the Wingra Café. Students who need additional meal dollars may purchase supplemental meal plans in the Office of Residence Life at any point during the semester. Cost for the supplemental plan is billed to the student's account. Any unused meal dollars are forfeited at the end of each semester. A dietician is available for consultation.
- Meal plans will be decided for resident's participating in other exchange programs not listed above in accordance with the program requirements.

8. ITEMS INCLUDED IN THE ROOM AND BOARD FEE

The following is included in the room and board fee: housing costs (space, heat, electricity, water, furniture including: a bed, mattress, dresser and closet space, desk, desk chair; telephone with local telephone service, laundry, internet and cable TV connection) and meal plan costs (meal dollars, administrative fee to cover labor and overhead costs.)

9. RULES AND REGULATIONS

A resident's signature on the Housing and Meal Plan Preference Form and Contract signifies acceptance of conditions stipulated by the College in this contract, the Student Handbook, Residence Life Handbook, and all Edgewood College publications pertaining to the governance of Edgewood College residence halls.
